DAY 2 CO-CREATION CANVAS

Reframe it together: Virley & Sons

20 minutes with Jesse Stanway and Anshu Sharma. One sticky note per idea.

1. What we see (5 min)

Read the four data cards. Which cause do you believe? What would a client say?

2. Reframe it (5 min)

Finish the sentence.

The real opportunity is not _____ , it is _____.

3. Shape the idea (10 min)

A client in London, Tokyo or Birmingham meets a named Virley adviser. What do they notice? What does the adviser need?

Business (B)

How do we know it raises value per sale?

eXperience (X)

What does the client feel? And the adviser?

Technology (T)

What profile and stock view are needed, and what exists?

Test it: what would have to be true? Who would block it? What do we need to find out first?

DATA CARDS

Four numbers from the data pack

Cut along the borders. Figures are FY-1 unless stated. Currency assumed £.

THE LEAK

£112m

Store sales lost in FY-1 because each sale was worth less, while the number of sales rose 7.6%.

Ask: Where did the value go?

LONDON

-13%

Value per sale in London fell from £71.8 to £62.6. Birmingham held at about £115.

Ask: Who stopped spending, and why?

ONLINE

£5.76

Revenue per visit from 982k visits, 58% from outside the UK. Help pages draw 1.9x womenswear views.

Ask: What stops a visit becoming an order?

COST

17.5%

Logistics as a share of revenue; Edinburgh runs at 20.6%. Two points of cost closes the gap to a 10% margin.

Ask: Where does effort go that the client never sees?

CLIENT-MOMENT PROP

What a client and an adviser might see

Illustrative mock-up for the room. Not real data or a real client.

CHAT FROM TOKYO

Do you have this jacket in navy?

Yes. London has one in your size. Total with duties and delivery: shown before you pay. Arrives Thursday.

Can you pair it with trousers?

I will send two options, and the golf line you looked at last time.

Use as a prop on slide 8. Ask: would a client feel looked after? Does a colleague have what they need?

SCRIBING SHEET

Client and colleague journey

Draw the journey as they tell it. Red dot for friction, green for delight.
